One day Molly went to the beach. She looked at the sparkling blue water and wanted to jump, but she was scared.

Brave

By: Alvina Singh
Askew Elementary
First Grade
One day Molly went to the beach. She looked at the sparkling blue water and wanted to jump but she was scared.

Suddenly, a big wave came toward her.
She ran away from the wave.

Then, she came back to the edge of the water.
Molly pretended she wasn’t afraid. She made a monster’s face and roared at the sea. “Raaaaarrrrrr!” She wasn’t scared anymore.

She jumped in the water and splashed it all over herself and splashed 5 birds. The birds had so much fun that they stayed with her.
The birds joined her. As she stood on the sand, Molly made faces at the wave, challenging it to hit her. She was brave.

Then, SPLASH! The wave crashed with a loud noise!
Suddenly, a huge wave came toward them. They backed up.

The wave got bigger. Molly ran until she was on the edge of the wet sand.
Molly was drenched!

Molly wiped her hair off her face and looked down. She saw hundreds of seashells and starfish covering the beach.
Molly picked up a seashell and starfish. Molly’s mom called, “Time to go!”

Molly ran out of the water and waved goodbye to the sea and waves.